GR-B.2 COE DEFINITION OF DIVERSITY AND DIVERSIFIED FIELD PLACEMENTS

CoE Definition of Diversity: Diversity is a term that refers to an inclusive community with varied characteristics, ideas, perspectives, and worldviews, and whose interactions both benefit and challenge each other to grow in an ever changing global society. Addressing diversity involves understanding individual differences, raising awareness of bias, and guiding and engaging in practices that foster mutual respect and acceptance of all groups.

Characteristics of diversity include (but are not limited to) age, cognitive style, culture, disability (intellectual, emotional, behavioral, learning, physical), economic background, education, ethnicity, gender identity, migrant status, geographic background, language(s), marital/partnered status, physical appearance, political affiliation, race, religious belief, sexual orientation, or veteran status.

Diversity Outcomes:

- Understanding the qualities that are different from our own.
- Building a culture that embraces differences and fosters mutual respect and empathy.
- Recognizing that personal, cultural and institutionalized discrimination creates and sustains privileges for some while creating and sustaining disadvantages for others.
- Appreciating the interdependence of groups and engaging in practices that build collaborative communities within a global society.

Diversity Indicators:

The Fort Hays State University College of Education (CoE) is committed to valuing diversity and continuously monitoring, reflecting and improving all policy, programs, procedures and relationships that further such values. The commitment of the FHSU CoE to diversity specifically includes:

- Fostering a culture of respect, sensitivity and interdependence among all stakeholders (students/candidates, administrators, faculty, staff, partnerships, and communities) connected to the CoE.
- Recruiting and supporting students/candidates with a diverse set of characteristics.
- Recruiting and supporting faculty with a diverse set of backgrounds and experiences.
- Providing quality learning experiences in all our programs that result in deep understanding, sensitivity and professional practices that address diverse learners.
- Providing clinical and field experiences for our students/candidates in diverse settings that provide the opportunities to expand professional knowledge and skills that benefit all students/candidates and communities.
- Monitoring disaggregated evidence of academic quality and student progress, providing support for students/candidates who need it.
- Enabling a quality assurance system that continually reviews and improves policies and procedures to achieve our commitment to diverse learners.
- Applying principles of Universal Design for Learning by 1) presenting instruction in multiple formats; 2) continually developing new ways to engage the interests of our teacher candidates; and 3) providing a variety of forms of assessment for our students/candidates to express what they know and understand.

Diversified Field Placements

The Office of Field Experience and Licensure shall attempt to place candidates in classroom environments that are diverse in learning experiences.

Diversity Placement Definition

In order to meet Kansas licensure and national accreditation standards as it relates to diversity, the college's philosophy of diversity placement, is placement for "in-place" diversity. Recognizing that all schools have unique diverse characteristics, "in-place" diversity is defined as the diversity that is a natural part of the school system environment in which the candidate is placed. All candidates will be required to design, implement, & carry out practices for diverse students in their placement.

GR-B.3 TUBERCULIN TESTING POLICY – ELEMENTARY AND SECONDARY EDUCATION

As mandated by the state of Kansas, (K.S.A. 72-5213) all first year teachers must have certification including a statement that there is no evidence of physical condition that would conflict with the health, safety or welfare of pupils; and that freedom from tuberculosis has been established by chest x-ray or negative tuberculin skin test.

As districts write policy to enforce this mandate, the policy also calls for compliance by all student teachers doing their clinical experience to have on file in their district, certification showing proof of a negative TB test. As a result of these district procedures, Fort Hays State University teaching candidates will be required to have on file, certification of the negative TB test.

All candidates must submit certification of the negative TB test in the practicum course before placement.

In addition to maintaining appropriate professional behavior as described below, to be retained in the program, candidates must also demonstrate appropriate professional dispositions.

A. Candidates in the College of Education may be removed from a Department or Program for behavior including, but not limited to, the following reasons:

1. Plagiarism

3. Repeated absences and/or tardiness

5. Argumentative behavior
6. Criminal behavior
7. Inadequate personal hygiene

B. Procedures for Removing Candidates from a College of Education Department or Program

1. If an advisor or any other faculty or staff member becomes aware of any circumstances and/or any other non-professional behavior/inadequacy in a COE Candidate, that if not changed, would seriously affect the Candidate's ability to satisfactorily perform in the capacity expected for graduates of the Candidate's program, the faculty member should counsel with the Candidate regarding the following steps. Staff should contact the advisor with their concerns.
 - a. Make the Candidate aware of the problem;
 - b. Offer the Candidate assistance in the development of a strategy to correct the problem or refer the Candidate for further assistance;
 - c. Establish a specific and reasonable amount of time for the candidate to correct the problem.
2. Compose a report indicating the nature of the problem and recommended steps for correction within a specified time and place it in the Candidate's advisor's file and provide a copy to the Department Chair
3. Remove the written report, if the problem is corrected within the specified timeframe, from the advisor's file at the time of graduation or program completion and the Department Chair should be notified.
4. If the problem persists, or another problem occurs, another counseling procedure including addressing the items in (1) above should be conducted.

5. If three written reports have been placed in a Candidate's advisor's file, without ample correction by the Candidate, a recommendation for removal from the Department can be made by the faculty member or advisor to the committee referenced below:
 - i. Will receive a letter and/or contact from the chair of the department that describes the unsatisfactory disposition status.
 - ii. Will be asked to meet with the FHSU chair of the department within two (2) weeks of receiving the letter. The candidate will have an opportunity to explain his/her position and provide additional relevant information.
 - iii. May be removed from the program.
 - iv. The candidate has the right to appeal the decision and within ten (10) days, must submit the appeal in writing to the Dean of the College of Education. In accordance with the appeal process designated by FHSU, the Dean will review the request and all related documents in the candidate's file, will meet with the candidate, instructor, and department chair as need to review the appeal and will render a decision in writing.

6. The Candidate may make a final appeal to the Dean of the College of Education.

The Candidate should follow the dispositions of the College of Education and the Department and Program of the Candidate's major.

GR-G.2. DISPOSITION ASSESSMENT OF INITIAL CANDIDATES

To be recommended for licensure, candidates will be expected to demonstrate professional conduct based on a set of dispositions adopted by the Fort Hays State University College of Education. These dispositions are closely aligned with the Fort Hays State University Shared Values and Beliefs for Professional Educators.

Elementary Education and Secondary Graduate Initial Licensure Programs and Elementary Education Transition to Teaching

All program initial candidates will be assessed in Field Experiences and Student Teaching courses.

High Incidence Special Education (Limited Residency License Program)

Limited Residency License candidates' dispositions are assessed by instructors and candidates self-rate during SPED 806 Methods and Materials for Exceptional Students and SPED 839 Practicum in Special Education II.

PreK and Secondary Transition to Teaching

- Self-rating and Instructor's ratings completed during the Induction course (representing the beginning of program).
- Self-rating and Instructor's ratings completed during the Fall ALTC 809 Supervised Practicum course (representing the middle of the program).
- Self-rating and Instructor's ratings completed during ALTC 807 Becoming a Reflective Teacher (representing the end of the program).

GR-G.3 POLICY ON REQUIREMENT OF BACKGROUND CHECKS

The College of Education requires a full national criminal background check report for USA residents to be completed prior to participation in the first field-based experience for candidates seeking to fulfill a licensure program. If a candidate held an Emergency Substitute Teaching License through the Kansas State Department of Education within the last four years, then an additional background check is not required. Candidates are responsible for obtaining the background check and for the cost. International candidates will need to pay the additional cost to have an international criminal verification run and cannot use the substitute teaching license option.

Elementary Education (traditional) and Secondary Education - a background check is required in the Field Experience course. It is valid for four years from the time the check is completed. If the candidate does not complete the program within four years of having the check, they will need to have it redone. Additional background checks prior to student teaching placement and licensure may be conducted by FHSU or third parties.

1. Candidate Reporting Responsibility: It is the duty of the candidate to promptly notify the Director of Field Experiences in the College of Education, no later than 72 hours following any incident that would necessitate an affirmative response after the completion of a previously submitted background check.
2. Reporting Procedure for Legal Altercations: Candidates who have been arrested or charged with a new misdemeanor or felony subsequent to the most recent background check are required to report the incident via the FHSU Maxient reporting link.
3. Consequences of Non-Compliance: Failure to report such an incident will be deemed as an act of dishonesty and may result in the candidate's expulsion from a clinical field experience or from the program entirely.

Examples of Crimes that must be reported include, but are not limited to:

- Crimes involving a minor
- Theft
- Illegal drug-related conduct
- Inappropriate or illegal use of alcohol
- Actions that harm a minor's health or welfare through physical or sexual abuse or exploitation
- Putting a child in danger
- Assault or battery
- Criminal threat

Factors relevant to determination of approval for program entry or continuance if a positive background check is found are:

- a) the nature and seriousness of the conduct
- b) the extent to which field experience, student teaching or a practicum may offer an opportunity to engage in conduct of a similar type that resulted in the charge
- c) the present fitness of the candidate,
- d) the actions of the person after the conduct resulting in the charge
- e) the time elapsed since the charge
- f) the age and maturity of the person at the time of the conduct resulting in the charge
- g) the number of incidents of improper conduct,
- h) discharge from probation, pardon or expungement.

Results of Check

Results of the checks will be verified by the Academic Program Specialist-Applications. If a background check reveals prior charges of concern, the COE Background Check Committee consisting of the Chair of the Teacher Education Department and the Field Experiences Director, will meet to recommend to the Academic Program Specialist-Applications entry or continuance in the program.

Review of Check

The FHSU COE Background Check Committee will review the background check to determine whether any prior conduct or charges revealed therein raises serious questions as to the fitness of the candidate to teach or work in a school setting. This is the COE's decision alone, and a decision clearing the candidate for admission to the program does not guarantee future licensure or employability, and future licensing agencies and/or employers may reach different conclusions based on the same background information.

In the event that a candidate is excluded from participating in a clinical experience or entry into a program as a result of the background check, the Director of Field Experiences will provide in writing to the candidate an initial determination which will include the basis upon which the decision was made. The candidate will have the opportunity to review and provide comment on any information contained in the background check. An appeal of the decision may be made by following the University's Policy Regarding Student Background Checks (<http://www.fhsu.edu/policies/> - p.56).

High Incidence Special Education (Limited Apprentice License) and Transition to Teaching

Both of these programs require issuance of a teaching license through the Kansas State Department of Education and candidates are required to complete fingerprinting for KSDE. If a license is not issued due to a background check issue, the candidate cannot enter the program.

GR-G.3b POLICY ON REQUIREMENT OF BACKGROUND CHECKS FOR GRADUATE SCHOOL/CLINICAL-MENTAL HEALTH COUNSELING AND SCHOOL PSYCHOLOGY LICENSURE PROGRAMS

The College of Education requires a background check to be completed prior to acceptance into a School Counseling or Clinical-Mental Health Counseling program within the Advanced Education Programs or School Psychology program.

Verification of background checks must be submitted as part of the Graduate School application for School Counseling and Clinical-Mental Health Counseling and at time of admittance to the program for School Psychology. Candidates are responsible for obtaining the background check and for the cost. International applicants will need to pay the additional cost, if necessary, to have an international criminal verification run.

A background check is valid for four years from the time the check is completed.

If concerns are found that are evident from the background check, the following will be taken into consideration prior to admittance to the program:

- a) the nature and seriousness of the conduct
- b) the extent to which field experience or a practicum may offer an opportunity to engage in conduct of a similar type that resulted in the charge
- c) the time elapsed since the charge
- d) the age of the person at the time of the conduct resulting in the charge
- e) the number of incidents of improper conduct,
- f) discharge from probation, pardon or expungement.

Results of Check

Results of the checks will be sent to the AEP or Psychology Department. If a background check reveals prior charges, the AEP or Psychology Department Background Check Committee consisting of two faculty members within the department and the Chair from the department, in which the academic program at issue is offered, will meet to determine entry into the program.

Review of Check

The AEP or Psychology Department Background Check Committee will review the background check to determine whether any prior conduct or charges revealed therein raises serious questions as to the appropriateness of the applicant to teach or work in a school setting. This is the department's decision alone, and a decision clearing the applicant for admission to the program does not guarantee future licensure or employability, and future licensing agencies and/or employers may reach different conclusions based on the same background information.

In the event that an applicant is denied entry into a program as a result of the background check, the AEP or Psychology Department Background Check Committee will provide in writing to the applicant an initial determination, which will include the basis upon which the determination was made. An appeal of the decision may be made by following the University's Policy Regarding Criminal Background Checks for Students Engaging in Clinicals <https://www.fhsu.edu/policies/student-affairs/>

GR-H.3 ESTABLISHING DATA VALIDITY AND RELIABILITY

Establishing Data Validity of Assessment Instruments

The data validity policy is to assure that assessments used for accreditation meet accepted standards for validity and reliability. All EPP created assessments (e.g., observation, instruments, and program rubrics) used to assess/evaluate candidate's performance will establish data validity (before EPP-wide adoption and implementation of the assessment instrument). Data validity can be supported through evidence of the following: agreement among reviewers of narrative evidence; expert validation of performance or artifacts; expert validation of the items in an assessment or rating form, and a measure's ability to predict performance in a future setting predictive validity. The EPP created assessment will include a plan that detailed steps the EPP has taken or is taking to ensure the validity of the assessment and its use. The plan will show the types of validity which are under investigation or have been established (e.g., construct, content, concurrent, predictive) and how they were established.

Establishing Data Reliability of Assessment Instruments

The EPP will provide details regarding the type of reliability being investigated or has been established (e.g., test-re-test, parallel forms, inter-rater, internal consistency). Reliability can be supported through evidence of an agreement among multiple raters of the same event or artifact (or the same candidate at different points in time); stability or consistency of ratings over time; or evidence of internal consistency of measures. A description or plan will be included that details the types of reliability that are being investigated or have been established (e.g., test-retest, parallel forms, inter-rater, internal consistency) and steps taken to ensure the reliability of the data from the assessment. The EPP will provide evidence of documented training of scorer and monitoring the inter-rater agreement and reliability and a description of steps taken based on accepted research standards for establishing reliability.
