

EARTH SCIENCE WEEK

EARTH MATERIALS IN OUR LIVES

CROSSWORD CHALLENGE

CARTOGRAPHY

Word Bank:

PRIME MERIDIAN
LONGITUDE

CONTOUR INTERVAL

TOPOGRAPHICAL MAP

LATITUDE

CONTOUR LINE

ISOBAR

MERIDIAN

Across:

- The _____ is the line of longitude, designated as 0° and used as a reference line to measure, longitude west and east
- A line passing through the south pole and north pole, forming a circle.
- _____ is the difference in heights of land surfaces between contour lines.

Down:

- A line drawn on a map which connects the points of equal pressures (high and low) is known as an _____.
- Imaginary horizontal lines on the Earth that run along the equator in both the hemispheres are known as _____.
- _____ are the lines showing the places having the same height above sea level.
- _____ is a type of large-scale map that represents both natural and man-made two-dimensional, surface geographical features.
- These are the imaginary vertical lines running along the eastern and western hemisphere of the Earth, which are used to measure the distance, location, and time.

